

Sequence diagram for the action "project view opens"

This lists and additional data must be determined by parsing the project configuration file (which is a xml) to the project id which we commit to the function.

The functionality of the parsing is not crucial for the sequence we show in this diagram.

creationDate, filePath)

Entry, pictureSetList, reportList)

While the model is created, it starts a thread which creates thumbnails for all pictures stored in it.

The functionality of the thumbnail generation is not crucial for the sequence we show in this diagram.
